

Loch Portain Cottage, North Uist, Outer Hebrides

Holiday Cottage

A wonderful holiday cottage with exceptional sea views on the peaceful island of North Uist.

Accommodation

Trinity Factors manages a wonderful self catering holiday cottage on North Uist in the Outer Hebrides. The cottage is decorated and furnished to a very high standard and is equipped with all modern appliances.

Formerly the church manse, this unique accommodation is located in the small fishing and crofting community of Loch Portain, 9 miles from the delightful village of Lochmaddy where you can arrive by ferry from Uig, Skye.

Attractions include beautiful, magnificent, empty and huge beaches; wild salmon; sea-trout and brown trout fishing; RSPB Nature Reserve at Balranald and many other outdoor activities. A variety of outdoor activities include: water sports, diving, abseiling, rock climbing and horse riding. There is also a golf course at Benbecula where visitors are welcome.

Fresh seafood available regularly at local harbours.

Loch Portain House

Formerly the manse, this cottage has one master kingsize bedroom with en-suite shower room and two twin bedrooms. A good quality bed settee (2" narrower & shorter than standard double bed) brings the maximum sleeping capacity to 8 plus cot. There is also a family bathroom. Two of the bedrooms has stunning views over the world famous brown trout Priest's loch.
